

Goal-Setting Interventions

Precontemplation: Not intending to change in the next 6 months. Interventions specific to goal setting should focus on creating goals that will help clients become better informed about factors that affect a healthy lifestyle.

Name of Intervention	Description of Intervention
Goal 1	Complete four coaching sessions and associated homework assignments.
Goal 2	Identify the impact of unhealthy habits by listing five benefits realized through adopting a healthy nutritional and exercise program.
Goal 3	Advance to contemplation stage in x number of weeks. Reevaluate where the client is after a set number of weeks to see if the client is on track, as individual differences will cause clients to move through the stages at different paces.
Goal 4	Increase the awareness of food quality by researching the number of calories from a recent meal at the client's favorite restaurant.

Contemplation: Intending to change within the next 6 months. Interventions specific to goal setting should focus on creating goals that will help clients identify benefits of healthy changes specific to them.

Goal 5	Have the client learn how to plan for and overcome exercise barriers by listing three personal barriers (e.g., not enough time, too tired) and two possible solutions to each barrier.
Goal 6	Have the client identify other forms of activity that he or she could do that are easily achieved and not directly related to exercise (e.g., taking the stairs, parking farther away).
Goal 7	Have the client learn how to cope with eating temptations by listing three personally tempting situations (e.g., going to happy hour with coworkers, cookies in the break room at work) and two possible alternatives that will result in a healthier outcome while still satisfying the client.
Goal 8	Identify two activities that are mildly or moderately enjoyable to the client that would suggest ideas of what the client could enjoy (e.g., golfing, fly-fishing, going to the zoo).
Goal 9	Advance to contemplation stage in a amount of weeks. Reevaluate where the client is after a set number of weeks to see if you are on track, as individual differences will cause clients to move through the stages at different paces.

Goal-Setting Interventions

Preparation: Intending to change in the next month. Interventions specific to goal setting should focus on creating goals to help clients prepare for a healthy lifestyle.

Goal 10	Along with this, have the client set a specific frequency for workouts (“I will start a program in 2 weeks during which I will exercise three times a week for 2 months”).
Goal 11	Research different resting metabolic rate and basal metabolic rate (RMR/BMR) formulas. Find a range for your RMR/BMR and set a realistic calorie intake to adhere to once the program has begun.
Goal 12	Plan two out-of-the-gym activities per month to increase activity (e.g., golfing, fly-fishing, hiking, swimming, playing with kids at the park).
Goal 13	Research, compare, and rank your favorite food tracking systems, website, and apps.
Goal 14	Research, compare, and rank your favorite exercise tracking band.

Action: Just beginning to change. Interventions specific to goal setting should focus on creating goals that help facilitate change.

Name of Intervention	Description of Intervention
Goal 15	Log and measure all foods ingested each day of the week utilizing your favorite nutrition tracker. Maintain a daily caloric deficit of 500 calories.
Goal 16	Create an alternative plan in case a barrier gets in the way of completing an exercise session (e.g., forgetting a change of clothes, working late, getting sick).
Goal 17	Lose 1.5 pounds of body fat every week for 8 consecutive weeks.
Goal 18	Make arrangements to meet with a fitness professional to develop a safe and effective exercise plan.
Goal 19	Complete 10,000 steps per day while wearing your favorite exercise tracking band.

Maintenance: In the process of change for 6 months. Interventions specific to goal setting should focus on creating goals that help maintain change.

Name of Intervention	Description of Intervention
Goal 20	Create a list of all barriers that prevent regular exercise and healthy eating during the holidays (e.g., travel, holiday parties, work/vacation schedule). Provide a plan of action with two solutions per barrier.
Goal 21	Further embed healthy habits as a way of life by making additional commitments (e.g., signing up for a half-marathon, joining a rock climbing gym, learning to become a group exercise instructor).
Goal 22	Recount an unusual event that has halted progress in the past and create three scenarios to which the client could have handled things differently (e.g., injuries and illnesses, change in employment, birth of a baby).
