

Quality of Life and Changing Behaviors

Goals are met with modifications to behaviors, and connecting behaviors to different quality of life domains will increase the value of the behavior.

Instructions: Identify a desired behavior modification and then list how the different quality of life domains will be enhanced when that behavior is in place and goals are being achieved.

Behavior to Change

How will changing this behavior enhance physical well-being?

How will changing this behavior enhance mental well-being?

How will changing this behavior enhance social well-being?
