

The best goals focus on behaviors you can change.

Directions: Take some time to think about what your short- and long-term goals are in the following areas fitness, weight loss, and health. Long-term goals refer to things you want to achieve over several months to years, and short-term goals are the things you want to accomplish in the immediate and near future. Also, please identify on a scale of 1-10 how important each goal is for you to achieve. If you do not have a goal for a specified area, please leave blank. Your Weight Loss Specialist will discuss these goals with you and together you will set goals that are specific, measurable, attainable, realistic, and time oriented.
